

Education Forum

Dialogue on Asian Community Issues

The Asian American Society of Central Virginia and the Henrico County Education Foundation, in collaboration with Henrico and Chesterfield County Public Schools, invites you to come experience a day at school to learn about topics that affect your child's education in today's public school environment. The AASoCV Education Forum is a free event that will take place on Saturday, 11/19/11 from 8:30AM to 2:00PM at Hermitage High School and will feature educators, administrators, counselors and other education and youth related individuals and organizations to help better understand the challenges and issues of the Asian students, their families and the school systems.

If you are interested in learning more about;

- English for Speakers of Other Languages (ESOL);
- College Preparatory;
- Standards of Learning (SOL);
- Peer Pressure;
- Parent Teacher Associations (PTA);
- Cultural Issues;
- Athletics;
- Curriculums;
- Tutoring;
- Extra-Curricular Activities and much more.....

Topics will be covered in grade level discussion groups in our Panel Discussion Classes and also through professional service providers in the region during our Education Fair. So please come and be involved in the education process. Please visit www.aasocv.org or see attached flyer for more info.

Saturday, November 19th, 2011 8:30AM-2:00PM
Hermitage High School 8301 Hungary Spring Road

Visit www.aasocv.org or Call 804-245-4974 / 804-307-0806 for more info.

Event Partner: Henrico Education Foundation
In collaboration with Henrico & Chesterfield County Public Schools