Dialogue on Asian Community Issues

To Our Community Educators:

The Asian American Society of Central Virginia and the Henrico County Education Foundation, in collaboration with Henrico and Chesterfield County Public Schools, invites you to experience enlightening discussions with the Asian American community about the education system at our Education Forum to be held on Saturday, 11/19/11 from 8:30AM-2:00PM at Hermitage High School.

Panels consisting of your colleagues shall engage in dialogue with the parents and youth in the Asian community to better understand how policies within our public schools bridge the cultural divide. We will also have other youth and education service providers at the Education Fair portion of the event to introduce their services and how they can augment the systems that are in place today.

As educators of our youth and caretakers of our communities' futures, we hope that you will be able to attend to add your thoughts and experiences to the discussions that will take place. Should you be able to attend, please check in at the Welcome Desk and identify yourself as an educator.

Please visit www.aasocv.org or see attached flyer for more info. Thanks so much and we look forward to welcoming you to our Forum
